Both Presidential Candidates Sharply Critical of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both presidential candidates had critical words to say today for Congress which is to wind up today its politically heated summer session.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts served notice that he will be around in January—either as president-elect or senator—to bring up again some of the things they didn't do.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican rival, said Congress had been called back after the party conventions for political purposes and had failed to enact a program.

Nixon, hospitalized with an in-fectured knee, said through Herbert G. Klein, his press secretary, that "certainly it is not surprising that the leaders of the Democratic party have not produced the type of program" President Eisenhower and he advocated.

Kennedy criticized Southern Democrats as well as Republicans, for balking the passage of legislation keyed to his party's platform.

He told his colleagues Wednesday that if he had accepted a stripped-down House version of a minimum wage bill the action would have foreclosed further progress in this field for several years.

Instead, he said, he chose to let the bill die so that it could be revived in a new Congress and with a new president.

Kennedy can contend in the campaign that if he is president he can reverse the present situation. He would have within his own party in Congress sufficient support to uphold almost any veto. He could throw back any bills passed by a coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans and thus pressure legislation in the direction he points.

On the other hand, unless Nixon can perform the near miracle of carrying the Republicans to control of the House, he will be in the same position as President Eisenhower.

He will have to depend on the old Republican-Southern Democratic coalition to produce the votes for his program. He will have to use his veto power as a club to influence the course of legislation.

Even Republican control of the House wouldn't change this materially. In the end his administration would have to accept some half-loaf compromises between a Republican House and a Democratic Senate.

Super Store Planned Here

Initial plans for the construction of a Super Duper Super Market at the intersection of Walnut Creek Pike and old Route 23 have been completed.

The announcement was made today by the president of Super Duper Super Markets in Columbus. Construction will begin on October 1 and the new building will be completed near the end of January.

The Broad Street Investment Co., Columbus, yesterday purchased the 6,500 sq. ft. lot from Donald A. Watt, Watt-Land Acers, Inc., Circleville. The Investment Co. is the builder for Super Duper Markets.

Women Dems Ending Their Tour of Texas

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Three women Democrats fly from El Paso to the Midland-Odessa Airport today for a reception ending their Texas tour in quest of votes.

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy and Mrs. Sargent Shriver Jr. began their visit to the state Monday at Houston.

Mrs. Kennedy said at El Paso that if her brother-in-law, Sen. John F. Kennedy is elected president labor leaders like James Hoffa of the Teamsters' Union will face the full power of a "strong Department of Justice."

"A strong Justice Department will see to it that strong proceedings are followed to bring to account those men who use their power in the labor movement to advance their own positions," Mrs. Kennedy said. She is the wife of the investigator who clashed with Hoffa during a Washington senatorial committee hearing.

The women visited with more than 2,500 women from Texas, New Mexico and Juarez, Mexico, at a tea in their honor at El Paso Wednesday.

Mrs. Johnson, wife of Texas' senior senator and the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, and her companions encountered an embarrassing local situation in El Paso.

The hotel at which the team was held also is headquarters for the El Paso County Republican party.

The Republicans agreed, after a hurried conference with the hotel management and leaders of both parties, to clear GOP campaign material from the lobby. But a big Republican banner fluttered across the front of the hotel as the Democratic tea was held.

Baptist Group Bars Kennedy on Religion

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —The Baptist Bible Fellowship has turned thumbs down on Sen. John Kennedy as a presidential candidate because he is a Roman Catholic.

"The Roman Catholic Church is a totalitarian religio-political institution whose source of authority and government is the head of a foreign state," said the resolution unanimously adopted at the group's annual meeting here Wednesday.

RAILROAD STRIKE HURTS OHIO

Sugar Debate Stalls Congress Adjournment

2 Houses at Odds On Power for Ike To Curb Dominica

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sugar legislation loaded with inter-American political dynamite, blew up Congress' hopes for adjournment early today.

An abrupt house recess at 3:36 a. m. forced both branches of Congress to continue today the post-convention session they had struggled through the night to end. The Senate gave up 45 minutes later.

The two houses were at loggerheads over whether President Eisenhower should have unilateral authority to cut sugar purchases from the Dominican Republic.

A House bill would have given him limited authority, but it imposed conditions which Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said would be impossible to meet.

The Senate, by a 62-17 vote, passed instead a substitute by Dirksen to give the President discretionary power, with no strings attached, to cut or terminate the Dominican quota. The House then quit for the night rather than try to reach any immediate agreement.

At that time, the House had been in session 15½ hours and the Senate more than 18 hours in an effort to wind up the session and clear the way for active political campaigning.

It was the second time this year that the tough problem of sugar had delayed adjournment. The two houses had battled into early Sunday morning, July 3, over giving Eisenhower authority to cut Cuba's sugar quota. At that time Congress was trying to quit for a month for the political conventions.

All other major legislation had been disposed of Wednesday night in the adjournment drive.

Compromising their differences, the Senate and House voted to give Eisenhower $6 billion dollars more for foreign aid—much less than the $90 million the Senate had voted. House conferees had refused to agree to any addition until the House itself voted the added amount.

A limited housing bill was pushed through both houses. It extends the FHA home improvement loan program and provides added funds for loans for college dormitories and such municipal projects as water and sewage systems.

The Senate sent to the White House a bill authorizing a new 600-million-dollar aid program for Latin America, for which money will be asked next year.

The House, by a 171-32 vote, completed congressional action on a bill to increase price supports for butterfat and milk despite opponents' cries that it was a political move likely to be vetoed.

Highway Patrol Ready For Labor Day Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Patrol—at its all-time high in manpower—began its preparations today for its campaign against traffic accidents in the coming Labor Day weekend.

The patrol's statistical division predicted that 29 persons will meet death over the weekend on Ohio's roads. In the same period last year 31 persons were killed in traffic.

Court Rules Against Kart Racing at Fairgrounds Here

A permanent injunction against go-kart operations at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds was granted yesterday by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

The hearing to ban go-karts from the fairgrounds began in early summer, but was postponed by a request of the Pickaway County Agriculture Society due to the preparations for the County Fair, August 1-6. The hearing continued Monday.

The Agriculture Society and the Circleville Go-Karters Club are defendants in a suit filed by nine persons with homes and businesses surrounding the Fairground area.

The petition stated that go-kart-

Mild Hero of 'Melvin Miller Week' Says that 'These People Are Crazy'

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "These people are crazy—what makes them act this way?" said good ol' Mel, bewildered but still game hero of "Melvin Miller Week."

"But I'm going to see this thing through, even if it kills me," said the Peoria, Ill., tractor factory foreman who today officially begins this week-long reign as king of this seaside resort.

His raucous reception Wednesday night quite possibly would have made seasoned politicians cry, "Enough Enough!"

In case anyone hasn't heard Melvin is the ordinary Joe whose free week in Laguna dates to a zany long-distance telephone call last Labor Day weekend.

On that now historic occasion, Marine Capt. Joe Gestson—searching for his misplaced automobile—quite by accident called Peoria and got Melvin, a complete stranger. They became long-distance buddies, and practical joker Gestson organized a drive to bring Melvin to Laguna for a week of fun in the sun.

Wednesday night Melvin stepped off a jet airliner in Los Angeles into chaos, brother, complete chaos.

"I never expected anything like this," said Melvin, nondrinker, father of three, church elder and pillar of the Peoria community.

The airport crowd of about 300 included actress Mamie Van Doren, who planted a kiss on Mel's surprised cheek.

"My wife didn't know about this," laughed husky Melvin, 40, who left his wife Sally and the kids in Peoria.

While the throng cheered, "Yea, Melvin" he was given a key to Laguna Beach by gray-thatched Mayor Jesse Riddell, retired Des Moines insurance executive and one of Laguna's greatest lawn bowlers.

Like conquering heroes, Miller and Gestson in an open convertible headed a howling motorcade. It proceeded 75 miles south to a reception at Laguna's Sandpaper Bar, the Marine hangout where Gestson placed his celebrated telephone call.

The joint was jammed.

Outside the bar, teen-agers climbed aboard a 20-foot-long tractor parked as a monument to Melvin's occupation.

On busy U.S. Highway 101 police officers battled a traffic jam.

"It got so bad I had to close down," said Yvonne Jones, who operates a drive-in restaurant across the street.

Inside, Melvin was mobbed. Press photographers, television cameramen, reporters, ladies in mumsus—baggy Hawaiian dresses—and Marines, jet pilots, beach boys, beach girls—all wanted to say hello to the crew-cut factory worker.

Barricaded in a corner, Melvin, in a conservative business suit shook hands with a couple of hundred. He tended bar. He posed for pictures under hot TV lights as fans stood on table and chair.

Finally Melvin and Gestson wriggled out of the jam for a breath of ocean air on the idyllic walk.

But there was no rest for Melvin.

By now in shirtsleeves and trying to light his pipe, he was lifted onto the curbside tractor for more pictures.

"I don't drive tractor, I just handle the paper work," Melvin protested.

The excitement continued amid lusty cries of "Hooray for Melvin!" from the idyllic crowd.

Gestson elbowed through the mob and led a strategic withdrawal to Melvin's ocean front motel where he two swichboard pal said goodnight. Melvin was for a few hour free of the tribulation of the famous.

Today he appears at a civic breakfast and then will be whisked to nearby Del Mar race the Sandpaper for another quiet evening. Quiet? With the Marine there? Oh, brother!

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union demanded Wednesday night that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld turn over the two big Belgian bases in the Congo to Premier Patrice Lumumba's government as soon as possible.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily M. Kuznetsov called on Hammarskjöld at U. N. headquarters, protested the continued presence of some 600 Belgian combat troops in the Congo and also demanded that the secretary-general abandon his plan to let an equal number of Belgian army technicians remain to maintain the Kamina and Kitona bases just taken over by U. N. forces.

Kuznetsov insisted that the Belgian technicians be replaced by personnel from other countries.

The Soviet aim obviously was to put Lumumba in control of the Kamina base, which is in rebellious Katanga province. With forces loyal to Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe in control of all other air strips in the province, Lumumba needs the big base's runway to land soldiers he has massed for an invasion attempt to overthrow Tshombe.

Hammarskjöld previously had announced neutralization of both the Kamina and Kitona bases and said they would be used only by U. N. personnel. He hoped apparently that if Lumumba's and Tshombe's soldiers were kept apart, the two leaders would settle their differences in negotiations.

Lumumba wants a central government headed by himself; Tshombe demands a federation in which the Congo's provinces would have most of the say about their own affairs.

Kuznetsov presented his demands shortly after Hammarskjöld had protested to the Belgian government against delay in getting the last Belgian combat force out of the strife-torn new nation.

3 Southern Anti-Integration Cases Eyed by Supreme Court

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three requests to halt or slow down public school integration were due to come before the U.S. Supreme Court today.

The Houston school board pinned its last hopes on the high court after Texas Gov. Price Daniel refused to intervene in a federal court order integrating the first grade next Wednesday.

Louisiana Gov. Jimmie Davis seeks to regain control of New Orleans schools, ordered to integrate first grade Nov. 14. A three-judge federal court told Davis to keep hands off after he took over the schools under a state law in an effort to forestall integration. Negro attorneys will seek to have the date speeded up to Sept. 8.

In the third case, Delaware is protesting an order to speed up the state's grade-a-year integration plan. The speedup, ordered by a lower federal court would integrate all grades by next fall.

Eight schools in Knoxville, Tenn., opened today with first grades integrated. Supt. Thomas N. Johnston reported no trouble when 28 Negroes enrolled in the formerly all-white schools Wednesday.

Dollarway school in Pine Bluff, Ark., has one 6-year-old Negro girl registered for first-grade classes beginning next Tuesday. One Negro student each is assigned to two North Miami Beach, Fla., schools, but the Dade County School Board turned down results to assign six more Negro children to white schools.

In Houston, the nation's largest segregated school system, three Negro children were refused enrollment in white schools despite a federal court's integration order. The Negroes were turned down under a school board policy requiring all pupils from one family to attend the same school. Parents of the three applicants have other children in Negro schools.

Stark County Club Bombed Third Time

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Army and Navy Union Club in Waco, just south of here on Ohio 43, was bombed early today—the third such bombing at the place in 14 months.

Stark County authorities said after looking at the scene they will ask the State Liquor Department to make available its file on the private club permit, "the complete record of their actions on their permit and their enforcement efforts in respect to it."

The blast ripped the vestibule of the two-story frame building and blew in part of the front wall of the building. It also shattered 62 windows 75 feet away in the Apex Powder Corp. plant and 20 windows across the highway in a residence.

There was no immediate estimate of damage.

Sheriff's deputies said the explosive, not identified, had been set just inside the vestibule.

The club was bombed twice in two days last year. The second bombing, on July 28, was the eleventh in Stark County in 14 months.

The following month the state attorney general started a special investigation on gambling, and there were no more bombings until three weeks ago, when the residence of a former coin machine operator, Nicholas J. Terse was bombed.

Prosecutor Norman J. Putnam said he was going to the Liquor Department because of a letter found in the club indicating there had been a citation, later cancelled, against the club for after-hours consumption of liquor.

A similar case in Miami County, August 12, 1960, was cited as part of the determining factor. The court of that county also declared that go-karts were a public nuisance because of the continued, high-pitched noise.

Judge Ammer, however, amended the order to permit go-kart and motor vehicle races during the County Fairs in the future.

Soviet Demands Action in Congo

New York Central, the Norfolk and Western and the Chesapeake and Ohio. Normally, about 200 persons use the Pennsylvania passenger service in and out of Columbus daily.

Negotiators continued to work for a settlement almost until the 12:01 a.m. deadline. Then, with the deadline past, angry statements were issued by the company and union officials. They seemed to wipe out whatever progress had been made in several weeks of intense bargaining.

"The negotiations are back to scratch," said James R. Symes, board chairman of the railroad. "They are broken, not recessed."

Francis A. O'Neill Jr., chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board said he would meet today with union officials and perhaps with company leaders.

He said there were no plans for a joint meeting before Saturday. The 20,000 nonoperating employees of the nation's largest railroad struck to obtain job classifications and to stop the railroad from contracting repair work to outside companies.

The two unions involved—the Transport Workers and the System Federation—set up picket lines at stations, shops and yards along the Pennsy's 10,000 miles of track, from New York and other East Coast points to St. Louis.

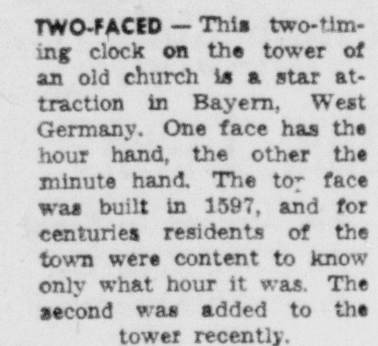

The shutdown and the picketing were orderly. The railroad furnished its 52,000 other employees for the duration of the strike. No passengers were stranded, for the railroad saw to it that no trains were en route to destinations when the strike began.

The dispute started on June 26, 1957, when the TWU served notice that it wanted to make certain changes in their contract, which does not have an expiration date. The System Federation, which represents 5,000 of the striking repairmen, maintenance men, car washers and the like, joined the action.

The unions object to the railroad contracting repair and maintenance work to outside companies instead of letting railroad men do this work.

They also want expansion and tightening of job classification rules to insure against the assignment of workers in one job to another.

Basically the company argues that efficiency and economy would suffer—at a time of decline in the industry—if the union's demands are met in full.

Stock Mart Makes Jog To Upside

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took a slight jog to the upside early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

The advance was irregular. Autos were up uniformly.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose .40 to 220.80, with the industrials up .80, the rails off .10 and the utilities up .20.

Gains among tobaccos, electronics and utilities helped lift the general tone. Oils were unchanged to a bit lower. Rails and chemicals were mixed.

The New York Stock Exchange was still having trouble with its two problem children, Telautograph and Comptometer. A pile up of orders and a thin supply of stock have kept these stocks from trading most of this week.

Comptometer rose to 30 on an opening block of 25,000 shares and in later trades declined sharply.

Telautograph did not open for more than 2 hours, then sold at 24 1/2, off 1/2 on 18,000 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.41 to 628.40. Corporate bonds were irregular. U.S. government bonds were unchanged to slightly lower.

Band Fathers Set For Dandy Capers

Sixteen Band Fathers will show their ability as terpsichoreans Friday night when Truman Eberly's CHS band moves onto the field for the Annual Band Mothers Preview. When Eberly's classy musicians sound out "Shine Little Glo Worm, Glimmer" the Dads will take their cue for a few dandy capers. The Pops appropriately are called the "Glo Worms".

It was reported here today that the "Glo Worms" are composed of such notables as George Speakman, Walter Ehmling, Jack O'Donnell, Doyle Painter, Ralph Dunkel, William Rickey, Frank Marion, Walter Pickel, Bertus Bennett, John Troutman, Dave McDonald, Marvin Jenkins, Howard Wellington, Robert Wood, George Hartman and Marshall Winner.

The long suffering Fathers are expected to be the highlight of the evening.

PLENTY of additional entertainment will be provided by the smart CHS band and Coach Carl Benhase's 1960 edition football team. The eventful program will get underway at 8 p. m.

Band members are competing for a cash prize offered for the sale of the most tickets. The ducats may be obtained from the musicians or at the gate.

Huge A-Smasher Project Is Urged

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The head of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission suggests that the world's nations band together to build the huge, costly atom-smashing machines of the future.

AEC Chairman John R. McCona told about 350 of the world's leading physicists, including Russians, that the tremendous cost in money and scientific talent to produce and operate these machines makes international effort almost necessary.

The machines smash the cores of atoms into bits and are a major aid in finding out what the atom—and therefore all of the universe—is made of.

Spunky Pleads Innocent to Kidnap Raps

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Gordon (Spunky) Firman, 21, pleaded innocent today to four charges of kidnapping during his one-month crime binge and was ordered held for trial under $60,000 bond.

Common Pleas Court Judge Fred B. Cramer said Firman would be brought to trial within a few weeks.

Ralph Marshall, an attorney from Zanesville, entered the plea for Firman. Firman hobbled into court under heavy guard his walking slowed from a bullet wound in the right hip. He was shot while resisting capture in Sherrodsville Aug. 26.

He was charged with kidnapping four Hamilton youths in confiscating the car of one of them and making them accompany him as he fled the city.

Firman broke out of Coshocton County Jail on July 26, where he was being held on a charge of giving beer to a minor.

During the month he was free, he stole automobiles, broke into jail to free a friend and robbed grocery stores, service stations and taxicab drivers.

Monkeys in Space To Munch Apples

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The first U.S. animal put into orbit around the earth will be a well-dressed monkey munching on sliced apples.

Two of the five monkeys being trained for the trip were exhibited by the Air Force Wednesday. They are known as 20-X and 21-X.

The Air Force hopes to put one of the 4-pound monkeys into orbit using a modified Thor missile fired from Vandenberg, Calif., Air Force Base in late October. The healthiest of females will make the trip and the Air Force believes it will survive. Its food during the trip will consist of sliced apples.

Jay, now in custody of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was regaining his weight.

Congo Force, Rebels Fighting in Kasai

ELISABETHVILLE, he Congo (AP)—Fighting was reported today between Congo army forces and rebels in Kasai province around Bakwanga, its capital.

But a spokesman for the army of rebellious Katanga province cast doubts on some claims of victories there by Baluba tribesmen supporting Albert Kalonji, chief of Kasai. Kalonji has allied his regime with Katanga.

Kalonji claimed Wednesday that Baluba guerrillas had captured Bakwanga, which had fallen to Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba's forces Saturday.

Abel, Powers Trials Different

In the wake of the trial of Francis Powers in Moscow, it is interesting to recall the trial in this country of Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel in 1957 on a similar charge. The two cases provide contrasts in methods of justice between the two countries.

Both probably were the highest-ranking intelligence agents ever captured in the two countries. Both were convicted of military spying. Powers was sentenced to 10 years with a hint of release after three years. Abel was sentenced to 30 years and will be eligible for parole after 11.

Abel was a red army officer with long training in espionage work. He entered the U. S. from Canada and set up shop in Brooklyn as an artist and photographer, but actually transmitted secret data to Russia by short-wave radio.

Abel's work was completely clandestine and hidden; Powers' was in the open, although high in the sky.

The Soviet government completely ignored Abel, making no public move to aid him (Pravda called the trial a "hoax"), while the U. S. quickly admitted Powers' mission and sought to help him. The Soviet attitude is in the tradition of intelligence work—the U. S. approach was unusual.

Minor Action, Major Reaction

NEW YORK (AP)—Small events sometimes have big repercussions in the modern business world.

For example take what happened recently in the Acme Tiddlywinks Co., the giant of its field.

At 9:16 one morning Jack Eager, the new office boy, was chatting with Miss Thelma Thumbs, secretary to Phineas Foogle, of the firm.

A pigeon landed on a ledge and looked curiously through a window.

"The pigeon is probably a spy for the boss," said Jack. "Watch me, I'll fix him."

The youth picked up a paper clip and tossed it. It struck the window—plink! — and the pigeon flew off in feathered alarm. The paper clip rebounded and fell near Thelma's desk.

At 9:29 Foogle entered, exchanged good mornings with Miss Thumbs, and then his eye fell on the paper clip on the floor. It bothered his sense of executive neatness.

Automatically, he started to bend his portly frame to retrieve gence work—the U. S. approach was unusual.

Powers was held three months while being questioned before he was permitted to see a lawyer or anyone else. Abel was questioned for five days without sleep and then three weeks more in an attempt to get him to defect.

Abel was tried by nine men and three women; Powers was tried by three military judges. Abel's attorney, appointed by the court, appealed his case to the U. S. Supreme Court and almost won acquittal on the basis that FBI agents had no search warrant when they entered Abel's hotel room and shop. The decision was 5-to-4 to uphold the conviction.

Powers' attorney made no attempt to appeal and no challenge of Soviet procedure.

"The Acme Tiddlywinks Co. is initiating a rigid economy program as of now. Expense accounts are being reduced 10 percent, and regrettably we have decided to cancel the annual Christmas bonus.

"We expect the full cooperation of every employee in paring costs to the bone. We must all tighten our belts and put our shoulders to the wheel."

"What happened to the boss?" the wondering employee asked each other. "The heat must have gone to his head. The firm's never been in better shape."

Miss Thumbs covered her typewriter at 5:29 and left. At 5:31 Foogle came out. He bent down, grunting, and picked up the offending paper clip. He dropped it complacently into the tray on Miss Thumbs' desk as a pigeon, that had just landed on the window ledge, looked in curiously.

It was the same pigeon that had landed on the ledge at 9:16 that morning.

American Bar Probes Marxism

It should be clear to anyone by now that the most serious historical and political problem that the United States faces at this time is the Communist Revolution which affects every continent and gives us no peace.

Even those who in the 1930's and 1940's felt that the outcry against the perils of the Communist Revolution was exaggerated are now beginning to realize that in those days we did not know the half of it.

Those who felt that Russia would calm down after a victorious war against Germany today must acknowledge that Russia is now our principal domestic as well as foreign problem.

Richard Nixon has wisely opened his campaign for the Presidency by a major report on the perils of ignorance of the subject. Correctly he stated:

"If the Free World is to win this struggle, we must have men and women who not only are against Communism but who know why they are against and who know what they are doing to do about it. Communism is a false idea, and the answer to a false idea, is truth, not ignorance."

Unfortunately the understanding of Marxism in this country is not general. Many Americans who are anti-Communists abhor Communism but they do not know why and when one questions them, they generally give the wrong reasons. I recall conversing with two women who regard themselves well informed on this subject, but no Marxist would understand what they were talking about. Most of their ideas about Communism related to Utopian Socialism and really what they were most concerned about were their own large bank statements and their social status.

Nixon shows that he has studied the subject and understands the nature of the permanent revolution. His last paragraph is a statement of his personal ideals:

"If mankind is to survive at a level of dignity worthy of its great past, we must help the world recapture some sense of the teachings of the great thinkers of former ages. It must come again to see that sound legal and political institutions not only express man's highest ideal of what he may become, but that they are indispensable instruments for enabling him to realize that ideal.

"It would be comforting to believe that the forces of history are working inevitably toward this realization and that we too are co-operating with the inevitable

The same problem will face the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association which meets this week. A committee has drawn up a report which while it is not as philosophic as Richard Nixon's statement, it is more a study of Communist activities in the United States from the standpoint of a lawyer. It is a sound report. I was particularly interested in what this document had to say about Communist lawyers:

"A group of Los Angeles lawyers, who had quit the CP in disillusionment in the latter 1940's described their Party experiences. Most of them had been recruited into the CP after the other lawyer members had induced them to attend informal 'legal' discussion groups where they were gradually exposed to Marxist philosophy.

"When they actually joined the Party, the new recruits were placed in a special lawyers' group

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JOHN KEASLER bought a 20-volume encyclopedia from an irresistible door-to-door salesman. The books arrived, were paid for in due course—but nobody ever seemed to

1. The volume marked OM to NU was just the proper thickness to prop under the broken leg of the coffee table and restore the table's balance.

2. Volume SE to TO is the only book around the house large enough to hide a girlie magazine when staid relatives come a-calling.

3. Any four volumes make a good seat for the kids while they're watching TV.

4. Packing a dozen volumes of the encyclopedia in your brother-in-law's suitcase makes him look mighty funny when he tries to pick it up.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a big bust.

This dying summer session of Congress used up the taxpayers' money accomplishing practically nothing and strangled itself in politics, polemics, partisanship and poor performance.

Neither Democrats nor Republicans can claim a victory from what happened for very little was done except to leave the voters more confused than ever on what result to expect from the November election.

For weeks voters' ears have been pounded with the leadership theme by the two presidential candidates—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy—each claiming he's the one to lead the nation.

Each had a chance to do his stuff in this congressional session.

Kennedy more than Nixon because Nixon, by the nature of the vice presidency, has to stay pretty much on the sidelines.

Both suffered dismal defeats. Each backed his own kind of medical care program. The Senate approved a program much less than either wanted.

If this session of Congress showed anything it showed the frustration Nixon and Kennedy face in dealing with Congress next year, no matter which one wins in November.

The Senate Democrats, outnumbering the Republicans 66-34, had enough votes to ram through anything they wished—if they stuck together, but they didn't.

Nineteen Southern Democrats deserted the rest of their party to join the Republicans in killing Kennedy's medical care bill.

Thus was revealed once again the myth of regarding the Democratic party as a single party with a unified will and viewpoint.

In the November elections, only one-third of the 100 Senate seats are at stake and the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 66-34. The Democrats don't figure to lose their majority in November, no matter who wins the presidency.

In the House all 437 seats are at stake. But there the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 280 to 152, with five vacancies.

So, short of a Republican landslide, the Democrats don't expect to lose control in the House, either.

If Nixon wins the presidency he faces the prospect of dealing with a Democratic-run Congress, which can be a frustrating experience as Kennedy ought to be able to tell him.

Kennedy, because he needs all the votes he can get and can't afford to split the party, won't be able in this election campaign to blame the Southern Democrats for what they did to him in this session of Congress.

Nixon's two main weapons, if he has to deal with a Democratic congress, will be the power to veto what he doesn't like and the hope of getting enough Democrats to trot along with enough Republicans to give him what he wants.

But what he'll get out of such an arrangement will pretty surely be conservative legislation since the conservatives of both parties in Congress are the dominating force and are likely to remain so.

If Kennedy wins he will always have hanging over him the threat of a coalition of conservative Democrats and conservative Republicans.

New Steel Orders Start To Pick Up

NEW YORK (AP)—New orders for steel are showing a seasonal pickup, Iron Age Magazine said today.

The national metalworking weekly said, "Most steel companies now believe the third quarter will average about 55 per cent of capacity with the fourth quarter averaging slightly under 70 per cent."

"The rate may reach 75 or 80 per cent in October, before dropping back in November."

The last two weeks have been the best for new order volume in many months, Iron Age said. Also, the volume of "rush" orders is up, indicating many users have inventories at a low level.

However, the magazine noted: "The situation in Detroit is most puzzling to steelmakers. The order rate from automakers is not up to expectations. Some delivery setbacks and size cutbacks have occurred."

"This picture could change in a hurry. But apparently there is some apprehension about sales of early 1961 cars. This is reflected in caution against over-ordering in October and November."

"Automakers are well aware that with the operating rate languishing in the 50s, the steel industry will have no trouble producing the steel if auto production should surge in October."

Honor Camp Pair Linked to Robbery

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Two men who walked away from the reformatory honor camp at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home here last week pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Tuesday to armed robbery and kidnapping charges. They were held to the grand jury under bond of $8,500 each.

The charges against John Willie Greenhill, 26, and Sam Ray Wellman, 21, both of New Boston, stemmed from incidents following their flight from the honor camp last Wednesday.

Authorities said the pair took clothing and $13 from Kenneth Faber, 0, and his mother, Mrs. Esther Faber, at a nearby motel and then forced Faber to drive them to the edge of Huron in a truck. They were captured several hours later in Huron.

This new skillet pie, like spoon bread, is served with a big spoon. When we offered it at lunch recently all four tasters lapped it up. Season the spoon pie as your taste directs. If you are lucky enough to have fresher than fresh corn, the amount of sugar called for in the recipe will be just right. But if the corn hasn't been rushed from farm to frying pan, you may want to add more.

And pepper! Creol cooks who prepare this dish season it, but hot.

Miss Rita Rutledge, Mt. Vernon, soloist, sang "Because" and "Prayer Perfect." Mrs. Karl Herrmann presided at the organ.

FLAVORFUL SWITCH: Corn and shrimp pie, originally baked in the oven, can be made in a skillet and brought to the table in a hurry.

Famous South Carolina Dish Becomes Flavorful Switch

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Have you ever wondered how new recipes get born?

Practically all the best up-to-date dishes—the ones eaters want to taste again and again—have a thoroughbred background. One generation of good cooks takes the beloved recipes of another day and improves on them.

That's just what has happened to a famous South Carolina dish—corn and shrimp pie. Originally it was made with fresh corn (cut and scraped from the cob), cooked shrimp, eggs, butter and milk, and baked in the oven. Sometimes onion, green pepper and tomato were among the seasonings added.

Then enterprising Southern cooks decided the delectable combination could be made on top of the range, substituting lots of butter for the eggs and milk. This is possible because the butter and corn pulp create a delicious custard-like effect.

This new skillet pie, like spoon bread, is served with a big spoon. When we offered it at lunch recently all four tasters lapped it up.

Season the spoon pie as your taste directs. If you are lucky enough to have fresher than fresh corn, the amount of sugar called for in the recipe will be just right. But if the corn hasn't been rushed from farm to frying pan, you may want to add more.

And pepper! Creol cooks who prepare this dish season it, but hot.

with freshly-ground pepper. In this recipe they might add a half-teaspoonful.

CORN AND SHRIMP SPOON PIE
Ingredients: 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup coarsely diced onion, 1/4 cup coarsely diced green pepper, 3 cups cut corn, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) d - vind shrimp (drained and rinsed), 1 tomato (skinned and seeded and diced).

Method: In a 9- or 10-inch skillet in melted butter cook and wilt onion and green pepper. Add corn, salt, pepper to taste and sugar, cook and stir constantly over high heat 2 minutes. Add shrimp and tomato; cover and cook over low heat 5 minutes.

Note: To prepare corn, slit kernels of large ears (about 6) by drawing a sharp knife through the center of each row. Cut off kernels and scrape to release milky pulp.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

It's Later than You Think!

Editor's Note: Ever since this letter appeared in my column, I have received hundreds of requests for copies of it. No letter has ever provoked more comment. I think it is worth repeating. ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I am the most heartbroken person on earth. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old gray-haired parents. They sat at home alone loving me just the same. It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them. I pray that you will print this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think.

"TOO LATE"

DEAR ABBY: Our seven-year-old boy cries himself to sleep every night because he wants a pet so bad. Our apartment house doesn't allow pets but my husband talked the manager into letting us have one.

The boy would like a dog but I think it would be easier to train a cat. Do you know which is easier to housebreak? Also a friend told me that a female stays home more and would make a better pet for a child. Have you any ideas on that?

MRS. J. L. T.

DEAR MRS. J. L. T.: It's dandy for children to have pets until the pets start having children. I suggest a miniature or toy poodle. Male.

DEAR ABBY: Every time my mother-in-law buys a gift for us it's something that was bought on sale and you can't take back. If she had any taste I wouldn't mind, but she has none. She buys things like ash trays, candy dishes and knickknacks that should be put out. If she comes here and doesn't see them, she gets mad and hurt. I've hinted, but she doesn't catch on. What's the best way of solving this problem without making a big deal out of it?

UP AGAINST IT
DEAR UP: Put the knickknacks out and forget it. If this is your biggest problem, you're the luckiest woman I heard from today.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem which a lot of girls seem to have. How can you find out which church a boy goes to without coming right out and asking him? I am 18 and my parents don't want me going with boys unless they are the same faith as I am.

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: There is nothing wrong with "coming right out" and asking a boy which church he goes to.

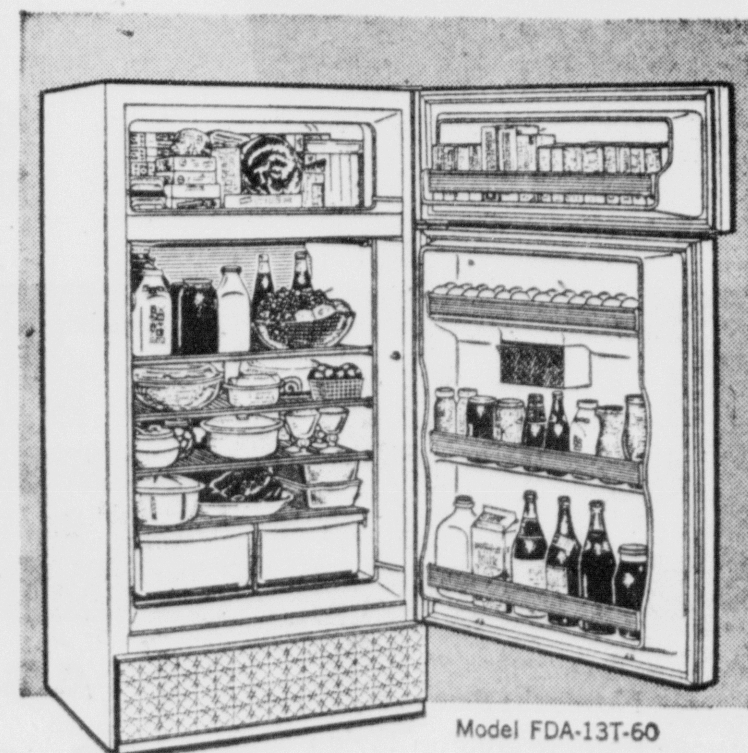

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Science Eyes Bugs in Bugs

Some Insects Immune To Potent Germs

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Strangely, insects seem to be immune to many potent germs—perhaps nature's secret protection.

A Northwestern University scientist told today of extracts from the adult moth that can kill many bacteria.

But these extracts are potent as germ killers only in laboratory tests. They have no apparent capabilities as germ fighters in human beings.

Still they have scientific interest.

They were first found in crude extracts of juvenile hormone—that chemical entity that acts as a youth factor helping regulate growth in insect larvae, and gradually diminishing as insects grow older.

Extract of this hormone from the abdomens of adult moths first showed antibacterial action, Dr. Lawrence L. Gilbert told a meeting of American Institute of Biological Sciences.

In the arena of the laboratory dish or vessel, this substance destroyed such potent germs as staphylococcus aureus.

This is a germ—looking under the microscope much like a cluster of golden beads—that has evolved resistance to antibiotics and plagues hospitals.

Later, Dr. Gilbert and his fellow researcher, Ralph A. Slepecky, found that the bacterial killing action was not in the juvenile hormone. It was, in fact, due to another chemical.

They suggest this chemical may be a fatty acid. If so, it is a material which would probably be used for food or energy in the human body before it could exhibit a germ killing effect.

Royal jelly—that substance by which bees nourish growing queen bees—exhibits a similar, but not identical, germ killing effect against some bacteria, the scientists said.

State Hospital Aides Cleared In Slayings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The head of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction has cleared attendants of any neglect in connection with three recent slayings of inmates.

Department head Dr. Robert A. Haines Tuesday submitted a report, signed by Asst. Commissioner Dr. J. Wylie McGough, to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. The report gave a clean bill of performance to the attendants, but recommended additional personnel to prevent recurrences of the situation which led to the murders of three feeble patients by two teen age inmates. The teen-agers, who are mentally retarded have admitted they killed the three "for kicks," hospital officials say.

The report said the ward in which the strangulation slayings occurred housed 21 epileptics and 37 retarded patients, 33 of whom were under age 40, and 25 over age 40. Slightly more than half are of the "untidy" type, the report continued, half of the individuals are unable to talk and about one-third need assistance in eating.

The 40-hour week and various errands keep the personnel on duty to a minimum in the ward where the slayings occurred, the report said.

Lake Erie Oxygen Shortage Is Probed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Division of Wildlife has announced completion of a two-day study of physical, chemical and biological conditions in the approximately 9,000 square miles of Lake Erie. Hayden W. Olds, division chief, said it will be about three weeks before results of the study are known.

The survey, Olds said, was undertaken to determine the seriousness of the oxygen shortage in Lake Erie during the late summer months. Seven different agencies from the United States and Canada cooperated in the project, expansion of a similar study made last September.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Despite all the talk, the sponsor's influence has not departed from the television scene.

One cigarette manufacturing company has such strong feelings about cigars that it will not permit even villains to smoke them. A number of car manufacturers dislike the sight of an automobile accident so violently that smash-ups are never in their sponsored shows—not even when the cars are so disguised that the make is unrecognizable.

The soap company sponsoring "Lassie" which has a large children's audience, bans both drinking and smoking. But by special dispensation, the veterinarian on the show may be shown holding a pipe between his teeth. It isn't loaded, however.

Sponsors quite naturally feel that performers in their series should be willing to use the products they are advertising. To insure this the soap, toothpaste and food manufacturers usually present their stars with handsome supplies of the product. Part of the financial reward of the musicians in Lawrence Welk's orchestra is a current model of his sponsor's automobile. Stars of other automobile-sponsored shows, can usually get a new model at wholesale prices.

Cigarettes, however, present a more difficult problem. Most smokers have their own favorite brand and prefer it in spite of financial considerations.

NBC plans a women-angled 60-minute documentary on family life, narrated by Jane Wyatt, on Nov. 14. It's sponsored by a cranberry producer anxious to overcome the disquieting news that cut into berry sales last Thanksgiving. No one will get on the record with a statement, but rumors persist producers are having difficulties with the ABC's new series based on Winston Churchill's memoirs and CBS' "Checkmate."

Cleveland Recalls First Airplane Flight There

CLEVELAND (AP) — The first airplane flight ever witnessed in Cleveland took place 50 years ago Wednesday.

Some 100,000 curiosity seekers turned out to see Glenn H. Curtiss start his epochal journey from Euclid Beach to Cedar Point in a pusher engine biplane. It was estimated that more than 300,000 persons lined the shore of Lake Erie from Cleveland to Sandusky.

The 64-mile trip, which set a world record for over-water flights was made in 78 minutes, at an average of 49.8 miles per hour.

250 Westinghouse Aides To Be Laid Off

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Production schedule changes will cause 250 hourly-rate employees at the Westinghouse plant here to be laid off this week. Plant manager George O'Brien said the schedule changes are caused by a nationwide slump in appliance buying.

The lay-off is Westinghouse's second major cutback in the last six months. In that time the company has furloughed more than 600 workers here.

Labor Day Traffic Expected To Kill 460

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents during the long Labor Day weekend may kill 460 persons, the National Safety Council estimates.

That figure would be one short of the record set in 1951 for a Labor Day holiday period. The holiday starts at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Monday. The council said nearly all of the nation's motor vehicles will be in the highways some time during the 78-hour holiday.

FUGITIVES FROM THE FBI

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this newspaper is running a series of descriptive articles on criminals wanted by the FBI.)

LAWRENCE EUGENE LOEWEN is presently being sought by the FBI for the interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle.

On January 1, 1957, while on leave from his Army post at Fort Campbell, Ky., Loewen allegedly stole an automobile from Oklahoma City, Okla., and transported it to Hopkinsville, Ky. There, he reportedly abandoned the car and stole another. After allegedly deserting the Army, he drove, in the second stolen vehicle, to Detroit, Mich. He has remained at large since that time.

A Federal warrant was issued at Paducah, Ky., on March 31, 1957, charging Loewen with the interstate transport of a stolen motor vehicle.

The fugitive, also known as Roger E. Loewen, Larry E. Smith and Roger Smith, has been employed as a farm laborer, garage mechanic and janitor. He is known to be a roller skating enthusiast.

Since Loewen reportedly carried a .45 caliber revolver, he should be considered armed and dangerous.

DESCRIPTION: Age, 20; Born, Gordon Township, N. D.; Height, 5 feet 10 inches; Weight, 145; Build, slender; Hair, brown; Eyes, hazel; Complexion, fair.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office. Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Ohio Flood Control Hearings Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army engineers probably will conduct hearings in Ohio in about two months on flood control problems of the Licking River area, Rep. Robert W. Levering (D-Ohio) reported today.

Levering hailed inclusion of $15,000 for Licking River studies and $5,900 for studies of the Clear and Rock Forks, Mohican River, in the compromise public works appropriation bill which cleared Congress Tuesday.

"I am sure the president will sign it and that the engineers will start hearings within a couple of months," Levering said. "Anyway, getting the studies into the bill was the hardest part. We are over the hump."

State Fair Hails Senior Citizens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 1960 Ohio State Fair today honored the state's senior citizens, and the main item on the program was a talk by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The governor was to deliver his talk at 1 p.m. in the senior citizens' tent on the fairgrounds.

Boy Scouts, encouraged by free tickets, swelled Wednesday's attendance to 50,000, fair officials said. In observance of the 50th anniversary of scouting, boys in uniform were admitted free, and officials said more than 11,000 free amusement ride tickets were given out to the youths. Official paid attendance for the day was 27,954.

Major Goose, owned by C. M. Saunders of Perrysburg and driven by Jim Fitzpatrick, won the feature on Wednesday's harness racing program—the Director of Agriculture Pace. Major Goose earned a $10,012 purse by winning in straight heats—in 2:04 and 2:02 4-5 over the half-mile track.

Fair Manager Rowland Bishop disclosed that next year's fair may include an international section, plus more free grandstand entertainment. He said he has nothing to announce on specific plans for the 1961 exposition, but did say several foreign consulates had approached him on the possibility of including an international display.

Bishop said he would like to begin construction next year on a junior fair exhibits building. But it depends upon the legislature making the necessary appropriations, he added.

One of the features of Friday's program is the $3,500 Ohio State Fair Motorcycle Classic over the fairgrounds' half-mile oval. In a 10-event program, 34 nationally known riders from 11 states and Canada will compete.

In livestock exhibitions Wednesday, the Myers Jersey Farm, Rt. 1, Troy, won first, fourth and 16th prizes in the 10th annual Jersey futurity for two-year-old heifers.

Linda Pleiman, 16, of Rt. 1, Fort Loramie, exhibited the Ayrshire grand champion in the 4-H division of the Junior Fair. Lynne Anne Ranck of Marion, won the Ayrshire showmanship trophy.

Wayne Boston, Rt. 1, Sunbury, exhibited the grand champion Ayrshire cow in the FFA division, besides the grand champion heifer calf, the junior yearling heifer and the senior yearling heifer.

Stephen Brewer, 14, of Darke County, exhibited the senior and grand champion cow in the 4-H Brown Swiss show. He also won the 4-H Brown Swiss showmanship contest.

Harry A. Bower, 16, of Rt. 1, Willard, exhibited the FFA grand champion Brown Swiss two-year-old.

'TREASON!'—In a wrathful, post-midnight speech (above) to an assembly of school teachers in Havana, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro branded as "treason" the anti-Communist declaration issued by 19 American republics at San Jose, Costa Rica. Ex-U.S. Aide Now Working For Kremlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department reports a former U.S. official apparently is working in Moscow now as an adviser to the Kremlin on Latin-American affairs.

The department said Maurice H. Halperin had stated in a passport renewal application that he had been in the Soviet Union since December 1958. It said Halperin stated he is employed by the "U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences" doing research "relating to undeveloped countries."

Recalling that Halperin during the latter part of World War II was head of the Office of Strategic Services' Latin-American Division, the department said its information indicates he now is working in the field of Latin-American affairs for the Soviets. The Soviet Academy of Sciences is directly subordinate to the Council of Ministers.

Halperin was an associate professor at Boston University after leaving government service. He was on the faculty of the University of Oklahoma before the war.

He was dismissed by Boston University in 1954 after Senate investigators received testimony linking him to a Soviet spy ring and he refused to answer questions as to whether he was a Communist.

Wheelchair Fails To Curb Eye Surgeon

CLEVELAND (AP)—A doctor in a wheelchair performed an emergency operation at Suburban Community Hospital Wednesday night that may save the eye of a Randall Park jockey.

Dr. Robert R. Blondis, chief of ophthalmology at the hospital, was taken out of traction and wheeled to the emergency room to perform the operation. He has been a patient since last Thursday when he suffered a slipped disk in his back while working in his yard in Shaker Heights.

The jockey is Ronald P. Behrens, 25, from Long Island, N. Y., who was injured when thrown from his mount, Mr. M. P., while riding in the post parade for the second race at Randall Park.

"The horse stumbled and I fell over his head onto the ground"

Man Leaps from Tree, Grabs Purse, $700

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An unknown man leaped out of a tree, assaulted a man and snatched a purse from a woman restaurant owner, making off with $700, police reported. Mrs. Yolck Yee, 62, told police she and her son Sang Cheek Yee 40, had just left their car near their home when the assailant struck.

Yee was treated in University Hospital for head lacerations. The Yees operate a restaurant on High Street across from Ohio State University's law school.

Behrens said. "Before I could roll away I was kicked in the head."

The jockey was taken to the hospital, where he was being treated for severe scalp cuts when an intern noticed an injury to the cornea of the right eye.

The only eye specialist immediately available was Dr. Blondis, who was in bed on the sixth floor with both legs in traction.

Dr. Blondis was unable to move from the wheelchair, but the examining table was lowered so he could look at the jockey's eye.

The doctor said there were several small cuts in the cornea of the eye, which he fixed without stitches. He said he believed the eye had been saved.

Ohio Migrant Labor Needs Under Study

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Ways of solving the migrant worker problem in Ohio were discussed at a public hearing here conducted by the migrant labor committee of the Ohio Legislative Service Commission.

One suggestion was that Ohio erect and supervise centralized villages for the migrant workers in various sections of the state and charge the workers a fee to use them.

The committee will make recommendations to the next legislature on how the migrant worker problem should be handled.

Rep. Harry Corkwell of Putnam County said the entangled village idea might be the solution.

A similar village has been established near Leipzig in his county through the cooperation of food producer farmers and is meeting with success with the Spanish-speaking migrant workers from the Texas area, Corkwell said.

"Consolidation of people into one camp where they have sewage facilities, central waer supplies and recreation activities would simplify the educational and health problems," he said.

"The Putnam area workers are willing to pay something for this because they were scattered all over before."

Dr. Percy L. Harris, commissioner in Stark County's general health district, told the committee that the chief need is "to educate these people on how to live properly."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Clear skies prevailed over Ohio Wednesday evening and during the early morning hours today. Extensive fog formed in the eastern valleys around dawn, with Zanesville, Bellaire and Marietta all reporting zero visibility.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the mid-60s. Findlay had 69, Youngstown 64, Zanesville 65 and Columbus 62.

A weather front stretching across the upper Great Lakes this morning separated a cooler air mass from Canada and the hot tropical air over Ohio. The tropical air will continue over the state today and Friday, featuring sunny skies and hot temperatures. Humidity will be high.

Tonight will be fair and warm. By late Friday, however, a little of the cooler air will infiltrate the extreme northeast portion, with relief from the heat reaching the central section some time Saturday.

Corruption Is Hinted by Truck Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators are working on a case which Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) says already has turned up indications of possible corruption in government regulation of some truck operators.

Congressional sources hinted the investigation, based on Interstate Commerce Commission activities, would penetrate the New York underworld and garment industry. It also was learned the Justice Department has investigated the same area.

Harris said that "no deliberate act of the commission itself" is involved in the possible irregularities which he said have been occurring for years.

Under way for many months, the inquiry was brought into the open Tuesday when the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee heard briefly from two subpoenaed officers of New York trucking firms.

Joseph Reznitsky, president of Gold Star Freight Lines, handed over several records demanded by the subcommittee. Jack Lieberman, secretary and treasurer of Interstate Dress Carriers balked. He said that to produce subpoenaed documents might tend to incriminate him.

Further hearings were put off until some indefinite future date.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Housewives have a wide variety of meat bargains to choose from for the long Labor Day weekend.

Supermarkets and neighborhood stores are spotlighting steaks, roasts, hams, frying chickens and turkeys.

Weekend specials also include such picnic and barbecue favorites as luncheon meats and ground beef.

Homemakers are getting a break on meat prices. Beef prices have reached a three-year low. Pork prices, which usually become cheaper in the fall when the spring pig crop starts reaching the market, already are dropping.

With hot weather curtailing egg production, prices are at the highest level of the year. Prices increased 2 to 6 cents a dozen. New items reaching the vegetable and fruit markets this week include Witloof endive from Belgium, blueberries from Michigan, Long Island cauliflower, nearby

Concord type grapes and a springing of Niagara type grapes.

The supply of apples, pears, plums and prunes has grown heavy.

Best buys among vegetables include cabbage, nearby celery, corn, cucumbers eggplant nearby onions, parsley, peppers, eastern potatoes and tomatoes.

In the good-buy category are beans, beets, broccoli, carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, radishes, green onions, squash and sweet potatoes.

Best fruit buys are honeydews, peaches and Thompson seedless grapes.

Chicagooan Refuses To Be U.S. Spy

CHICAGO (AP)—A young business executive says he was asked by the Central Intelligence Agency to spy during a trip to the Soviet Union but refused.

The CIA approached Robert Berlin, 28 vice president of a sales company in June 1958 as he prepared for a trip which included 10 days in the Soviet Union, Berlin said Tuesday.

Berlin said he refused because of the risk involved and because he does not think it right for a tourist to spy.

"A lot of people have told me I would get in trouble telling this story, but I believe in expressing what I think," Berlin said.

In an interview with the Chicago American, Berlin said he revealed the request because the U. S. government has protested that some American tourists have been called spies and expelled from the Soviet Union.

In Washington the CIA had no comment on Berlin's story, the American said. The newspaper, however, quoted a spokesman as saying that "It's our business to seek information wherever we can get it, just as the Russians try to get information. And it is a lot easier for them to get it."

Businessmen
Now Hoping for Autumn Pickup

So-So Summer Stint
Near End; Fall To Bring New Challenge

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are winding up their so-so summer and looking with a faith that's more than usually shaky toward a real pickup in the fall.

The calendar says autumn is three weeks off. But business is used to calling Labor Day the end of summer and its general let-down.

Modest seasonal gains seem assured. Yet business hopes for more than that. But only a few are daring to predict a really good increase in activity—perhaps because so many business executives remember that their New Year's pronouncements of golden days ahead left them with embarrassing explanations to make at their annual stockholder meetings.

The stock market reflects the general uncertainty today. Its traditional summer rally was late this year. The equally traditional September reaction could be off schedule, too. The big price movements, one way or the other, have been in special stocks rather than those that historically are bulwarks of the economy.

Biggest disappointments of the summer have been steel's inability as yet to climb out of its private recession, a pileup in unsold appliances, sluggish home building, sticky totals of unemployment, profit squeezes on many big corporations.

Best of the black ink items have been high personal incomes, still rising if more cautious consumer spending, a money market that isn't really very easy but is no longer tight, refusal of the majority of Americans to panic at foreign alarms, business slowness or dire campaign predictions as to whether we may be going.

The attempts of the government to help business out of the doldrums have been of little avail so far. But many think the real effects will show up once people get down to work again after Labor Day.

They count on recent moves to make credit more available and interest rates lower to encourage businessmen to build up inventories again. Many think stocks have been cut about as low as they can safely go.

The same monetary forces may help the housing industry, although the real gains there may be pushed back now until spring.

The optimists think the down cycle in the metals industries should have about run its course—although a drop in machine tool orders seems to foretell slack capital spending by industry. But good consumer acceptance of the forthcoming new car models could offset that.

Ex-Cincy Aide
Is Sentenced

CINCINNATI (AP) — Leo Cafferata, 60, was sentenced to prison Wednesday for from one to ten years on a conviction of violating the conflict of interest laws.

He was convicted of accepting $31,250 as a real estate commission in the city's purchase of the Gibson Art Building for a garage. He was in charge of the city's off-street parking program at the time.

Cafferata was continued free on $4,000 bond after his attorney, Harry McIlwain, told the court an appeal would be made.

Criminal Court Judge Charles S. Bell sentenced Cafferata. The judge said Cafferata "knew very well what he was doing" in participating in a transaction of the kind while a city employee.

Ohio Excise Tax
Collection Drops

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's excise tax collection for July was almost 10 per cent lower than a year ago, the State Tax Department said today.

July 1959 was the first full month in which a higher excise tax was collected on cigarette sales, horse race betting, wine, 3.2 beer and malt beverages.

With those increases, the Tax Department's research - statistics division pointed out, the July 1959 collection shot up almost 50 per cent to $10,451,129. But this July's collection dropped more than a million dollars below that total to $9,438,796.

Cigarette sales had a lot to do with it, figures from the department's sales-excise-highway use tax division indicate. The number on which the tax was paid this July was the lowest for any July since 1956, and the amount collected was a million dollars less than a year ago.

Some 250 persons perished in the Chicago Fire of Oct. 8, 1871. The next day 1,152 died in a forest fire near Peshtigo, Wis.

Will Shakespeare Doing OK
At Southern California Spa

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Here in this warm, seaside metropolis, Will Shakespeare is being played much the same as when he was originally presented three and a half centuries ago.

Now, as then, he's doing great business.

The Globe Theater in Balboa Park is booming through its 11th summer of producing the Bard as was. The commercial and artistic success of the venture should give heart to proponents of the live throughout the land.

San Diego used to be a lively show town. George Thomas, long-time playgoer and editor of the old Sun, reports that all the roadshows played San Diego and there were local theater groups, too. But the legitimate theater dwindled with the rise of movies.

The Globe was born as an attraction of the exposition of 1935. Patrons were treated to 50-minute versions of Shakespeare's plays in authentic atmosphere. The building was as close as possible to the Elizabethan theater—octagonin shape with jutting stage, tiers of boxes for the nobility and a pit where the groundlings mingled.

The structure was saved from demolition after the exposition and converted to a more normal playhouse. During the war, it was used as a Navy lecture hall, then resumed as a community theater under the direction of Craig Noel. Business was fair to middling.

The summer Shakespeare festival was strictly amateur, drawing from San Diego State and other college students supported by locally financed scholarships. Last season, the Globe took a giant step toward professionalism by signing a nucleus of New York actors.

"We lost $12,000, which is a large deficit for a community theater," said production manager William Eaton. "But we decided to try it again this summer. The gamble paid off. Last week we played to 99.5 per cent capacity."

U.S. Diving, Track Stars Seek To Pad Olympic Score

ROME (AP) — Gary Tobian, Uncle Sam's diving ace, moved into the lead with a splendid performance in the semifinals of the platform event, and Wilma Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., led all preliminary qualifiers in the women's 100-meter dash today as the sixth full day of competition got under way in the Olympic Games.

It was a day that dawned with bright expectations for the United States in its bid to overhaul Russia in the unofficial team point standings.

Finals were scheduled in the men's high jump, where John Thomas of Cambridge, Mass., is the world's best, and in the men's 100-meter dash, where Yank speedsters may be ready to pull an upset and retain U.S. supremacy.

America also looked to add to its total of four gold medals in the two swimming finals tonight—the men's 400-meter medley relay, and the women's 400-meter freestyle.

Russia, leading with nine gold medals and 16½ points to America's runner-up 110 points, also had an eye on additional titles, however. The Soviet was favored in two women's track and field events, the 80-meter hurdles, and the javelin.

Tobian, from Glendale, Calif., took charge in the platform diving, as expected, in his quest for a second gold medal. A surprise winner in the springboard event, he moved from fourth place after past early leader Brian Phelps of Britain in the three dives of the semifinals.

Bob Webster of Santa Ana, Calif., ninth Wednesday, is third going into Friday's finals. Phelps took second place over Webster on his final dive.

Miss Rudolph won her 100-meter heat in 11.5 seconds, one-tenth of a second off the Olympic record set in 1956 by Australia's Betty Cuthbert.

Barbara Jones of Nashville joined Miss Rudolph in the second round with an easy 11.8. Martha Hudson of McRue, Ga., advanced by finishing fourth—the final qualifying position — in her heat in 12.2.

Miss Cuthbert and Russia's Vera Krepkina, Wednesday's broad jump winner, also advanced. But Irina Press, the Soviet's great all-around star, withdrew, apparently to save herself for the afternoon final in the 80-meter hurdles. The three U.S. hurdle entries were eliminated Wednesday.

Thomas, the Boston University student who holds the world high jump record at 7 feet, 3¼ inches, casually soared over the 6-foot 4¼ qualifying height on his first attempt. He had passed earlier, warm-up tries.

Dave Sime of Durham, N.C.; Ray Norton of Oakland, Calif., and Frank Budd of Asbury Park, N.J., carried Uncle Sam's hopes in the men's 100-meters—an event the United States has won in the past five games and in all but two Olympics since 1896.

The big threats to that streak were Germany's Armin Hary, who set a record with 10.2 in Wednesday's heats, and Canada's Harry Jerome. Hary and Jerome are co-holders of the world record at 10 feet.

Chris Von Saltza of Saratoga, Calif., a silver medal winner in the 100-meter freestyle, set an Olympic record in the 400-meter freestyle Wednesday. Tonight, she continues her rivalry with Australia's Dawn Fraser, the 100-meter winner, and also must beat Australia's Ilsa Konrads.

Jeff Farrell of Wichita, Kan., the top American freestyle swimmer who failed to make the team in his specialties because of an appendectomy, was fit and ready to anchor the world record-breaking medley relay team.

Farrell also was at the anchor of the men's 800-meter freestyle team that was to go in another final tonight against the strong Aussie freestylers.

It was a day of second chances for American oarsmen, beaten seven out of seven in all preliminary events on Lake Albano.

One crew, the fours with cox, gained a new life and a Friday semifinal berth with a repechage victory Wednesday. The big question remaining was whether the Navy eight could duplicate the 1956 comeback of Yale which won America's eighth straight gold and must comeback in the repechage.

The U.S. pair oars without cox,

Ted Frost and Bob Rogers of the Lake Washington Rowing Club of Seattle, today made it back into Friday's semis with a repechage victory by a length over Denmark in 7:14.60 for the 2,000 meters (1 mile, 427 yards). All races are at that distance.

Karen Anderson Oldham of San Diego, the lone U.S. entry, qualified for the women's javelin on her final toss, 166 feet, 7½ inches. Russia's Elvira Ozolina led the qualifiers with 174-8½.

Gridder Still Silent after '56 Mishap

CLEVELAND (AP) — If his mother's love and hope could work a miracle, Dick Kadis would cut his own birthday cake a year from now when he will be 26.

But Tuesday, when the family gathered in their home at Seven Hills with relatives to mark Kadis' 25th birthday, the only way he could let them know his appreciation was by the way he looked at them.

Since Sept. 29, 1956, when he was injured in a football game at Waynesburg, Pa., while playing as a lineman for Geneva College, Kadis has been unable to talk, to walk, to move his arms freely or even to eat normally. Two of his three daily meals are tube-fed.

Brain surgery and more than two years in hospitals used up most of about $70,000 which was raised for him in fund drives—the largest ones in Pittsburgh and nearby Beaver Falls, home on Geneva College.

He still needs day and night nurses on eight-hour shifts and is visited biweekly by his doctor. Next month his mother, Mrs. Pauline Kadis, plans to take him by train to Denver for physio-therapy treatments.

"I think they can help him," she said. "He is improving some. He's more alert and understands more. He gets most of what you are saying."

"He talks to us with his eyes—he has very expressive eyes," she went on.

In the first year after his injury, Kadis was in an almost complete coma and his weight fell to about 125 pounds. Now he is back to about 200.

He listens to the radio in the morning and watches television later in the day, showing special interest in any sports programs.

Another Trainer Faces Horse-Doping Charge

CINCINNATI (AP)—A charge of giving a stimulating drug to a horse has brought suspension to another trainer at River Downs. It was the second such case in three days as the Cincinnati Turf Club neared the end of its race meeting at the track.

Latest to be suspended and referred to the Ohio State Racing Commission was Shelby J. Myers of Cincinnati. He was charged with having given the stimulant to Lexington, winner of the third race Monday.

Card Rookie Is Nemesis For Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—The major league baseball season still has all of September to go and the St. Louis Cardinals already have equalled their 1959 victory production, 71 games. No less than 13 of them, a mark matched against the Reds only by league-leading Pittsburgh have been over Cincinnati.

The Cards reached that point Wednesday night when they whipped the Reds, 2-1, behind the six-hit pitching of Ray Sadecki and a home run by Walt Moryn.

The 19-year-old Sadecki seems on his way to becoming a Cincinnati nemesis such as Warren Spahn.

Sadecki has started four times against Cincinnati and has a 3-0 mark against the Reds. In 33 innings against them he has allowed 18 hits, 6 runs, 3 earned runs, has struck out 25 and walked 24.

Moryn's home run, which wrecked Jay Hook's nine-inning, nine hit pitching performance, made it 11 straight games in which he has hit safely. He has clubbed 19 hits in 34 times at bat in that stretch.

About the only thing on the bright side for the Reds was the word that pitchers Jim O'Toole and Jim Maloney are ready for action. Both have been sidelined by arm troubles but trainer Richard Rhode said they now can take their regular pitching turns.

Hook was nursing a one-run lead when Moryn hit his homer Wednesday night.

The Reds' run came in the third on a single by Gordon Coleman, a walk to Hook and Roy McMillan's single.

Cardinals Show Improvement in NL Flag Chase

Manager of Year Honors May Go to Redbirds' Solly Hemus

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's no longer any doubt: The most improved club in the National League is the St. Louis Cardinals and the most improved manager is the Redbirds' Solly Hemus.

Only Pittsburgh's Danny Murtaugh stands between Hemus and the coveted honor of National League's Manager of the Year.

In his first year as a big league manager, Hemus last season piloted the Cardinals to an undis-tinguished seventh place finish. His team won only 71 games, losing 83.

With a full month still to go in the 1960 campaign, Hemus' Cardinals won their 71st game Wednesday night, squeezing out a 2-1 decision over Cincinnati. They have lost 35. The victory boosted the Cards into second place, 6½ Pittsburgh.

The Pirates whipped San Francisco 7-3. The Milwaukee Braves, beaten 5-4 in 10 innings of the opener, won the second game from the Chicago Cubs, 11-7. Los Angeles downed Philadelphia 3-1.

Rookie left-hander Ray Sadecki and veteran outfielder Walter Moryn of the Cards teamed up to defeat the Reds. Sadecki pitched a six-hitter for his eighth triumph.

Roberto Clemente's hot bat cooled off the Giants in San Francisco. The Pittsburgh outfielder rapped three hits, including his 12th homer, drove in two runs and scored two more as the Pirates overcame an early 3-0 deficit.

Clem Labine, in relief, was credited with the victory.

The Braves walloped five home runs in their twin bill in Chicago but a couple of Cubs' homers beat them in the opener. A four-bagger by Bob Will, off Lew Burdette in the 10th inning was the decisive blow. Another by Don Zimmer, in the ninth, had tied the score 4-4.

In the second game, three-run homers by Bill Bruton and Eddie Mathews (No. 31), featured a 13-hit Milwaukee attack against five pitchers.

Roger Craig hurled a six-hitter and Junior Gilliam drove in all three Los Angeles runs in the Dodgers' triumph over Philadelphia.

The most exciting and perhaps timore's baseball history since timore's baseball history since Ned Hanon's champion Orioles of 1894-96 figures to get away wing Friday night when the youthful Birds engage the league-leading New York Yankees in an all-important three-game series.

A sweep would lift the Orioles into first place in the American League and establish them as the team to beat for the flag.

Baltimore narrowed New York's first-place lead to a single game Wednesday night, beating Cleveland 6-3 after Kansas City had held the Yankees to a split in an afternoon double-header. The A's won the second game 6-0 after absorbing a 1-0 shutout in the opener.

Washington dropped third place Chicago four games off the pace with a 2-1 decision. Detroit beat Boston 4-2.

Grid Unit Split For Preview Tilt

The Circleville High School grid team has been divided into two squads for an encounter during the Band Mothers Preview here Friday night.

The Tigers have been split as even as possible in order to provide a balanced scrimmage. One team will wear red and the other white.

Activity is slated to start at 8 p. m. Plenty of entertainment will be provided by the CHS Marching Band. The Band Mothers also have a special program lined up.

MEMBERS of the White team are Rupert Rudd 77, Bob Cushing 51, Pat Rooney 75, Mike Wilson 38, Vern Reichmanus 99, Phil Wing 50, Jake Bailey 86, Bob Owens 62, Dave Hannans 56, John Williams 63, Jim Anderson 48, Gary Harrison 33, Dan Moffitt 88, Dever Jolly 74, Tim Mogan 60.

The Red team will be coached by John Adler and Jack Weikert and the Whites by Dick Fisher. Jim Lint and Paul Sarchet. Head Coach Carl Benhase will keep an eye on both teams.

The managers this season are headed by Jack Cook. He is assisted by Jerry Francis and Trainer Eddie Wright.

The Tiger squad suffered a jolt yesterday when it was learned that Garold Dade, promising sophomore left halfback, suffered a head injury in the scrimmage with Groveport Tuesday.

The flashy back was forced to miss practice yesterday. Coach Benhase today said he is awaiting the doctor's report on extent of the injury.

Dade has been developing at a pleasing pace so far in practice. The CHS coaching staff is hoping the injury is only slight. The speedy back ripped off a 65-yard touchdown run in the Groveport scrimmage prior to his injury.

MEANWHILE, the Tigers resumed regular practice yesterday with their sights set on the intersquad test Friday and the opening game

September 9 at Paint Valley.

If Dade is forced out of the lineup for a few days, it probably will mean some changes. They could include moving Fullback Chuck McDowell to left half and shifting Line-man Rupert Rudd to the fullback slot.

First mile heat—Won by a nose over Elaine Rodney, matching the Hambletonian record of 1:59 4-5 set by Emily's Pride in 1958.

Second heat—Finished seventh when he clipped the wheel of In Haste at the top of the stretch. Won by Quick Song and driver Frank Ervin in record time of 1:59 3-5.

Third heat—Finished third as Hoot Frost, piloted by Jim Arthur, also won in 1:59 3-5.

Fourth heat—Beat Quick Song by a head after leading all the way, with Hoot Frost third, a length back, in a race-off. The time was 2:10 3-5 as the three colts sat back but Blaze covered the last quarter in a sizzling 27 3-5, then they all let loose.

A record crowd of 25,611 charged the finish.

Blaze, trained and driven by Joe O'Brien, who won the Scott Forst in 1955, was the Hambletonian winterbook favorite after earning $142,052 to take 2-year-old trotting honors in 1959. But tender feet troubled him this season and he failed to win in seven starts, breaking gait in four of them. New shoes with rubber pads solved the problem.

Moore Is Tagged Fighter of Month

NEW YORK (AP) — World Featherweight Champion Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, was named "fighter of the month" in the semi-monthly ratings released today by Ring Magazine.

Moore won the honor by his successful title defense against Japan's Kazuo Takayama, now ranked No. 9 in the division.

There were minor changes in the heavyweight ratings. Robert Cleroux of Montreal, kayo victor over Roy Harris, moved from ninth to eighth by following that victory with a decision over George Chuvalo, Dick Richardson of Wales, moved from 10th to 9th as inactive Billy Hunter was dropped from No. 8 to No. 10.

Held Back on Active List

KANSAS CITY (AP)—With the lifting of the player limit today, shortstop Woodie Held goes back on the Cleveland Indians' active list and may be in the lineup when the Tribe opens a four-game series with the Kansas City Athletics tonight.

Held had been out of action since he suffered a broken finger in July.

Frank Funk, a pitcher purchased from Toronto of the International League Monday, also goes on the active list and will be in the bullpen tonight.

The Indians lost a 6-3 decision to the second-place Orioles in Baltimore Wednesday night. A grand slam home run by Gene Woodling led the Orioles to victory and a sweep of the two-game series.

Cleveland center fielder Jim Piersall was injured in the eighth inning when he slipped while chasing Jim Gentile's double and his left leg slid under the portable outfield fence.

Dr. Erwin Mayer, the Orioles' physician, said Piersall suffered bruises of the lower leg. He was taken to a hospital for pre-cautionary X-rays.

Hal (Skinny) Brown pitched 8 1-3 innings of scoreless ball in relief of Steve Barber and picked up his 10th victory. He has lost five games.

The loser was Dick Stigman, who unable to start in the series opener Tuesday night because of a virus infection. He now has a 5-9 record.

Stigman gave up a single and two walks in the third inning before Woodling hit his 10th home run of the year. That gave the Orioles a 4-3 lead.

Browns Travel To Northwest

49ers To Be Engaged In Portland Battle

FOREST GROVE, Ore. (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, now in their 15th professional football season, have played to more than 10 million fans, but Saturday night's game in Portland against San Francisco will be their first appearance in the Northwest.

A crowd of about 30,000 is expected to watch the Browns try to hand the 49ers their first exhibition game setback in four starts. Both Cleveland and San Francisco are shaping up as prime challengers for division titles.

Last year each club had a 7-5 record, and Cleveland tied with Philadelphia for runnerup to New York in the Eastern Conference. The 49ers tied for third with Green Bay in the Western Conference, which was topped by the league champs, the Baltimore Colts. San Francisco beat Cleveland last year, 21-20, in regular season play.

The 49ers this year include 30 veterans on the 43-member squad. The receiving side of the 49er pass offense has been improved with addition of rookie Monty Stickles of Notre Dame, a 6-foot-3, 240-pounder contributing blocking strength, and Tom Osborne, also a rookie end, looking good on catching.

Y. A. Tittle and John Brodie have divided the passing chores in San Francisco's conquests of Dallas, Washington and Philadelphia, each completing 25 out of 35 attempts.

Veteran Hugh McElhenny, a 31, has featured the running attack, averaging 6½ yards a carry in the three exhibition games.

The Browns go into the game with three injured players—Gern Nagler, whose wrenched knee may keep him from duties at end; Wilmer Fowler, a halfback who has a pulled leg muscle; and tackle Dick Schaftrath, who was kicked in the heel.

Olson Is Felled By 6th Round KO

CHICAGO (AP) — Former middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson's comeback hopes were dimmed Wednesday night by the "only right hand punch" young Doug Jones tossed.

Jones, 23-year-old New Yorker scored his 16th triumph without defeat when he kayoed Olson in 1:30 of the sixth round. Jones tossed a short left and a hard right uppercut, ending the scheduled 10-round Chicago Stadium light heavyweight feature.

Olson, 179, had piled up a slight margin with an effective left hook which Jones, 176, didn't seem able to solve. There were no other knockdowns and neither fighter was hurt when the end came. "We"

Angler Contends Ohio Trout Fishing Is Best in Nation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio trout fisherman who has tried the sport in several nearby states and provinces considers the Buckeye angling for the sport fish the best he has experienced.

Ivor Dodds of Marion (401 Monroe St.) is the fisherman who thinks Ohio trout fishing is fine, and he has the proof.

Dodds has been fishing Mad River near West Liberty in Logan County every weekend since February. He has 32 trout tags on his key ring and he reports that he caught an additional 20 without tags. The trout measured up to 18 inches and there were several 17 inches.

He fishes night crawlers on a fly rod to make these good catches.

"I consider this key ring full of trout tags as much a trophy as the head of my Ohio Buck," Dodds comments.

This is a fish story from Chillicothe as reported by Ted Overholser, Wildlife District 5 law enforcement supervisor.

A Pike County angler "caught" a 34-inch muskie with a moving scythe, and it came about this way: During the recent heavy rain at the state's Kincaid Fish Farm in Pike County, flood waters were high enough to permit many of the big breeder muskies to swim free. One of them got along the right-of-way of Ohio 124 within the vision of an observer who was carrying a scythe. He immediately began to swing the tool in an attempt to hook the big fish.

He was too successful. Upon capturing the fish, he was cited by a game protector who had witnessed the unusual angling method. The man paid a $50 fine for taking a game fish by an illegal method.

Muskie fishing at Rocky Fork Lake in Highland County has been good this year, reports Ray Riethmiller, District 5 fish management supervisor. He said his study disclosed that the total catch from this lake thus far is near 300, most of the catches in the three-year class average six to eight pounds. Best catch this year was 27 muskies taken in one weekend in June. Best bait here is still the bomber type plug.

Nieder Proud Of His Medal

Olympic Shot Put King Recalls Fears

ROME (AP)—"Six weeks ago, I was so down in the dumps I vowed I never would try to put the shot again," big Bill Nieder said today.

"Then, when I saw those three American flags go up and heard the Star Spangled Banner ring out over Olympic Stadium, I was glad I had changed my mind.

"It was the happiest, proudest moment of my life. It made it all worthwhile."

It's a long hard climb from hopelessness and deep depression to an Olympic championship, but today Bill Nieder had made it—and the hard way.

He had the Olympic shot-putting gold medal to go with the world record and, more than that, the satisfaction of proving he really could win the big one.

"After I set the world record of 65 feet and 7 inches in Texas earlier this year, Parry O'Brien made a remark that it didn't bother him that I was unable to come through when the chips were down in a major event," Nieder said.

"I was determined to prove he was wrong."

Nieder indicated that when he cut loose with that tremendous heave of 64 feet, 6¼ inches on the next-to-last of his six throws Wednesday, he was tossing the iron ball into the teeth of his bitter rival O'Brien.

O'Brien, winner of the Olympic crown in 1952 and 1956, finished second with 62-8¾, while Dallas Long made it an American sweep by taking third with 62-4¾.

"Parry's words really ate into me," the 6-foot-3, 255-pound Army lieutenant from Lawrence, Kan., said. "Brien is a great competitor, the toughest I ever faced, but there's never been a man I wanted to beat more."

"Last Saturday in practice I put the shot 67 feet, 1 inch (Nieder's pending world record is 65-10). I didn't tell anybody. I didn't dare think about it. But I felt then that I could win the Olympic gold medal."

Athletic Drugs Eyed by Medics

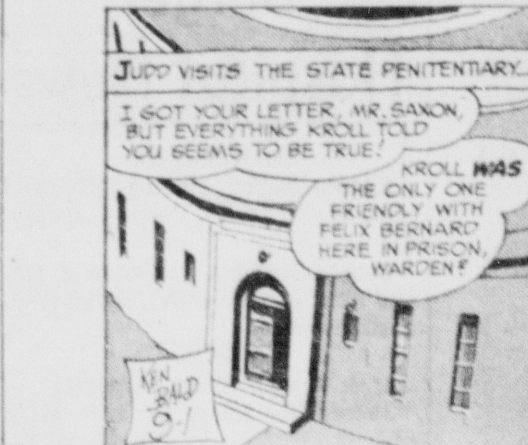

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) Dr. Robert Murphy, Ohio State University's football team physician, told a panel of physicians here today to "use a pain-killing drug to treat an injured athlete if necessary, but never allow him to keep playing."

A two-day postgraduate Institute for doctors on the medical aspects of high school athletics is being held at Ohio State.

Dr. Murphy made these points: The team physician's approach to any use of drugs and stimulants should be "on the negative side," and "nothing should be done to the athlete to remove his normal body defenses, including pain."

Oxygen, used in many places for athletes, is of questionable value and can do "more harm than good," he said, adding that wholesale use of vitamins for athletes is not indicated.

Man Ordered Returned to Lima Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state commissioner of mental hygiene has overruled a court verdict and ordered a Cleveland man sent back to Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

The order, issued Wednesday by Dr. Henry Luidens, sends Charles Chorbha back to Lima from the Hawthornden State Hospital.

Chorbha, 45, who has been in and out of mental hospitals since 1945, was committed to Lima last May after he killed a patient at the Cleveland State Hospital, while he himself was confined there.

Dr. Luidens, then superintendent at Lima, recommended that Chorbha not be transferred from Lima for at least three years. But Chorbha petitioned for his release from Lima and the court permitted his transfer to Hawthornden on Aug. 16.

"The man is dangerous and should not have been returned to Hawthornden," Dr. Luidens said. "I am certain that the seriousness of the case had not been brought out in the court hearing," the commissioner added.

Turnpike Fatalities Are Lowest in Ohio

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A survey of deaths on turnpikes in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York shows that Ohio has had the lowest fatality rate of the four in 1959-60.

The survey, conducted by The Associated Press, said that 31 persons died on the Ohio Turnpike in 1959-60, 18 of them in 1959. This compares with 125 on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, 79 on the New York Thruway and 37 on the New Jersey Turnpike.

The survey went on to say that Ohio has never had a death occur from a car crossing the medial strip, while cross-over mishaps have counted for 43 deaths on the Pennsylvania superhighway, 14 on the New York road and 6 on the New Jersey Turnpike.

Funeral Home Wedding

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Nashville couple began their married life where most people end it—in a funeral home. Rain started falling just as the garden wedding for Shirley Price and Melvin Baker was about to begin. Rather than postpone the marriage, the wedding party and guests dashed to a near by funeral home where the vows were exchanged.

Pennsy Strike Leader Noted As Irish Wit

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union, is an individual of determination, abounding Irish wit and a propensity for getting in and out of trouble.

Quill 55, is a caricaturist's dream with his heavy, dark-rimmed glasses, a fringe of hair around a bald pate, a round, cherubic face, a roly-poly frame, and blue eyes which twinkle or blaze.

Since he came here from Ireland when he was about 26, Quill worked at odd jobs, became a subway change maker, helped organize the TWU, and served three terms on the city council.

Early today he led workers out on a strike that shut down the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Behind his broad brogue and colorful language lie a resourceful brain and a bull-like tenacity. He often has threatened strikes but, after a suitable interval, has compromised and praised the very companies and individuals which he attacked with vitriolic vigor.

Quill, who got some early support from Communists decided in 1948 to clean them out of the TWU.

Going Communists one better, he sowed dissension among their ranks, planted misinformation which broke up their planned attacks, and ridiculed them.

When he is not engaged on labor matters, Quill lives quietly in the Bronx with his wife, the former Mollie O'Neill. They have one son, John, 21.
